DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This house is a six bay, one story building of possible log construction. It is sheathed with German siding. It now serves as a two part residence and may have done so originally. Windows have six over one pane sashes and the two entrances are modern following stylized colonial motifs. These doors are located at the second bays from each end wall.

Although the house has received modern exterior finishes, it could date from the early 19th century.
